

Partner search

Culture sub-Program

Strand/category European Cooperation Projects

Deadline Expected in November 2017

Cultural operator(s)

Name National Gallery of BIH and NGO Radio Kameleon Open Network for Human Rights and Democracy

Short description Through this unique partnership NGO Radio Kameleon in its 20 year history of organizing cultural, media, and sport projects and events and the tradition of the BH National Gallery, we strive to develop an EU network of small and large cultural organizations with creativity and cooperation.

Contact details Edina.seleskovic@gmail.com

Project

Field(s) Culture, visual arts, public art, youth involvement, architecture, design, photography, sculpture, new media, interactive art

Description Think Freedom is a comprehensive public art project sending a message of peace and freedom from the heart of Sarajevo to the region, all of Europe, the America's, and the World. It incorporates sculpture, installation, performance, light, sound, film, the art of literary word, and new global communication technologies while connecting young generation with the universal power of art. Established artists joins hands with young students in order to create an urban spectacle and a masterpiece and share it with host cities providing an opportunity to connect globally through art creation. This collaboration is intended to connect creative professionals from fields of cultural management, cultural PR, curators, and artists, while bringing culture and contemporary art closer to the general public through a comprehensive approach to public art.

Partners searched

Countries Hungary

Profile Cultural organizations, institutions, cultural centers
Cotemporary art festivals, galleries, museums, etc.

Other

Youth organizations and youth centers